Lump sum allowance (LSA)

Lump sum allowance (LSA) is the tax-free cash limit you can get from your pension(s) currently set at £268,275 from 6 April 2024.

Known lump sum allowance (LSA)

LSA used	Amount used
LSA used by this scheme since 6th April 2024	£8,154.86
LSA used elsewhere since 6th April 2024	£0.00
Deemed LSA used before 6th April 2024	£0.00

Has your LSA used elsewhere since 6th April changed from the above figure? *

(•) Yes ( ) No

LSA used elsewhere *

£ 222.00

Regular crystallisations and lump sum allowance (LSA)

If a member has a live regular crystallisation series and their LSA changes due to a crystallisation in a pension elsewhere, you'll need to set up a new regular crystallisation series and provide updated LSA figures.

Pension access options

FAD and UFPLS are pension access options, differing mainly in when tax-free cash is accessed.

With FAD, you can take 25% tax-free cash upfront, either gradually or all at once. For each £1 taken tax-free, £3 is moved to a FAD account. Withdrawals from a FAD account may be subject to tax on the entire lump sum, triggering the money purchase annual allowance (MPAA).

UFPLS distributes the 25% tax-free cash across all withdrawals. Each withdrawal from the pension pot incurs 25% tax-free, with the remaining 75% subject to potential taxation. The MPAA is activated with the first withdrawal.

Market fluctuations
If FAD is selected and there are insufficient funds available to meet the required FAD income then there may be a delay to the payment due to recalculation of FAD Payment This may occur if the FAD income amount is close to the crystallised amount (after PCLS is deducted) as fund prices may drop between calculation and realisation.

Which pension access option do you wish to use? *

- ○ UFPLS
- ◉ FAD

PCLS figure

Please note that the PCLS figure is indicative and the actual amount received may be less, depending on available lump sum allowance. Cash will be used first to fund the PCLS, any additional money required will be realised from selling assets proportionally.

For crystallisations, exchange-traded assets (e.g. shares and ETFs) are valued using the mid price. Other asset types use the relevant market price, which may result in small differences from portfolio values shown elsewhere.

Payment day

Is the target day per calendar month for any taxable income to hit your bank account. PCLS may reach you before this date each month.
